

Sociable Weaver Project - Manager Application

The Sociable Weaver Project is looking for two field managers to start in February 2024 for a minimum contract period of six months.

This long-term project has been using the sociable weaver population at Benfontein Nature Reserve in Kimberley as a model to study the evolution and maintenance of cooperation since 1993.

If you have:

- a driver's license and good driving skills
- previous fieldwork and management experience
- experience in handling, ringing, and collecting blood samples from birds
- team work experience
- good interpersonal skills
- no snake phobia or fear of heights

And are:

- available for 6-8 months minimum
- highly organised
- not colour-blind (as the work requires putting colour-rings on birds)

then visit the Sociable Weaver Project website

(<https://sociableweaverproject.com/recruitment/managers>) to find out how to apply.

Closing date: 30 November 2024
